2006 Review Process for Posters & Round Table Carousel Abstracts Proposed for Presentation

The purpose of the posters is to present visually a concept or idea that reflects innovative models of research, educational programming, or evaluation. Selected participants can present on abstracts of research, theoretical advances or explanations of an issue for discussion.

Twenty-five proposals were originally submitted for possible presentation at this year's conference. A distinguished panel of agricultural and extension educators at Pennsylvania State University was convened to review and accept proposals. Based on the panel's recommendation, 23 proposals were accepted for presentation at the 2006 AIAEE Conference. The initial review process resulted in an acceptance rate of 92%.

Authors of professional papers not accepted for presentation were asked to indicate if they were willing to be considered for participation in the poster session. Using the professional paper reviews as a foundation for acceptance, four additional posters were accepted for presentation.

Originally six carousel proposals were submitted for possible presentation at this year's conference. A distinguished group of agricultural and extension educators from around the world reviewed the proposals. Each proposal was reviewed by a minimum of two educators. The initial review process resulted in five accepted proposals. Only proposals that received an overall probably accept recommendation were selected for presentation at the 2006 AIAEE conference. Due to the low number of proposals, a second call for abstracts was announced in mid January. This resulted in an additional five abstracts, which were reviewed and accepted for this year's conference.

Authors of professional papers not accepted for presentation were asked to indicate if they were willing to be considered for participation in the carousel roundtable session. Using the professional paper reviews as a foundation for acceptance, one carousel was accepted for presentation.
